

THE FLIPSIDE

ASSIGNMENT: Write a “sense-sational” poem about Autumn.

Autumn is the color of crisp, colored, falling leaves.
It sounds like blazing camp bonfires.
It tastes like warm toasted marshmallows
And smells like warm soup on a chilly night.
Autumn looks like a carpet of colored leaves across the endless green grass.
It makes you feel as together as an endless blue sky
and a cold starry night.

ESHA SAWANT
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of the gold sunset very low in the sky.
It sounds like the wind blowing.
It tastes like fruit, freshly picked
And smells like crisp vanilla cookies.
Autumn looks like a whirl of red.
It makes you feel relaxed.

DECLAN HUDDLESTON
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of an orange leaf, just fallen from a tree.
It sounds like the popping from a warm campfire.
It tastes like lots of pumpkin seeds
And smells like delicious Thanksgiving food, warm in the oven.
Autumn looks like piles of different colored leaves
on the ground.
It makes you feel happy and joyful.

SARA FRAWLEY
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of bright orange leaves on trees.
It sounds like the whistle of a cold breeze against houses.
It tastes like hot chocolate
And smells like newly cut green grass.
Autumn looks like snow, just starting to fall.
It makes me feel adventurous.

MAXWELL JONES
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of a sunny, blue-sky day with few clouds.
It sounds like crunching leaves.
It tastes like bitter chocolate
And smells like crisp leaves.
Autumn looks like vibrant, colorful foliage.
It makes you feel hearty.

CHRISTOPHER AMMANN
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of a bright leaf.
It sounds like whistling wind.
It tastes like wheat growing.
Autumn looks like red, yellow, and orange leaves.
It makes me feel good!

MICHAEL MANNINO
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of changing seasons.
It sounds like dry, brown leaves, rustling in the wind.
It tastes like warm, luscious banana bread
And smells like the soothing smell of newly cut grass.
Autumn looks like a pumpkin patch filled with enormous pumpkins.
It makes me feel warm inside and out.

UMA ALAGAPPAN
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of an oak tree with drooping leaves.

It sounds like the grass whistling.
It tastes like fresh turkey with apple pie
And smells like a brand new pine tree.
Autumn looks like colorful leaves—orange and green.
It makes me feel as good as can be.

SAHIL SETH
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of breezy weather.
It sounds like birds chirping.
It tastes like pumpkin pie,
And it smells like basted turkey.
Autumn looks like colorful leaves.
It makes me feel appreciated.

EMMA FARRELL
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of a brown oak tree.
It sounds like wind blowing in the fields.
It tastes like steamy hot chocolate.
It smells like a burning fire.
Autumn looks like a giant, orange leaf.
Autumn makes me feel delightful.

SYDNIE ROHME
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of the warm sun.
It sounds like a whistle, blowing through the air.
It tastes like hot chocolate by a fire
And smells like cotton candy.
Autumn looks like a rainbow of leaves.
It makes me feel warm and loved inside.

OLIVIA WALDORF
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of fiery orange.
It sounds like a person whistling loudly.
It tastes like a jar of colorful jelly beans
And smells like the ocean’s waves.
Autumn looks like a bright-colored painting.
It makes me feel excited to jump in the leaves.

MADISON KALTER
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of falling orange leaves.
It sounds like the rustling of leaves.
It tastes like yellow lemonade
And smells like a flower wilting.
Autumn looks very colorful.
It makes you feel cold.

ALIM MERCHANT
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of green grass in my backyard.
It sounds like birds chirping in trees.
It tastes like hot stew, getting warm and cozy.
It smells like picking grapes out of a garden.
Autumn looks like a fun season in which to play.
It makes you feel joyful in your heart.

LUKE FARRELL
Third Grade

Autumn is the color of orange leaves, falling off a tree.
It sounds like birds chirping in the distance.
It tastes like pumpkin pie
And smells like Thanksgiving turkey.
Autumn looks like orange paint on the ground.
It makes you feel excited for the holidays.
